

Wellington Retail Park – Waterloo, Hampshire

Albury S.I. Ltd have carried out a number of site investigations inside existing retail units for proposed mezzanines and within the existing car park for new commercial units.

These investigations involved concrete coring of existing floor slabs, within the existing retail units and deep cable percussive boreholes. The internal borehole was constructed using a demountable drilling rig due to the restricted headroom within the unit. The retail units have since been refurbished and the commercial structure constructed to provide a further three retail units.
